

Green Valley®

Hay & Pasture
Seed Mixture

A
Premium Quality
Seed Mixture Of
Grasses And Legumes
Which Are Preferred For Reasons Of Palatability,
Ease In Curing, And Lessening Of Bloat
This Hay Product Would
Be An Excellent Source Of Energy For Cattle And Horses

Does Not Contain Any Type
Of Fescue Seed

Seed At A Rate Of
20 -25 Pounds Per Acre
In Early Spring
February -- May
Or In The Late Summer/ Fall
August--October

Broadcast Or Drill
Into A Well Prepared
Seed Bed
Depth Of 0 To ¼ Inch

A Product Of:

Baker Seed, LLC
610 W. Seminary St.
West Salem, IL 62476

Phone: (618) 456-8851

Green Valley®

Premium
Hay & Pasture
Seed Mix

Potomac Orchardgrass

A Long Lived Perennial
Bunch Type Grass

Drought Tolerant

Provides A High Quality Feed For Most Classes Of Livestock

Palatability Is Higher Than Fescues
Adapts To Many Soil Textures

Heat Resistance

Produces An Abundance
Of Basil And Leafy Upright Stems

Growth Habit Compatible
With Legumes

Timothy

A Perennial Bunch Grass That Fits
Well In This Mixture

Easy to Establish

Does Not Spread By Rhizomes Or Stolons So It Will Not Crowd Out
Legumes

Can Be Used On Land Low In Fertility

Very Desirable For Horse Hay

A Winter Hardy Plant

Vernal Alfalfa

A Herbaceous Perennial
That Begins To Grow Early In The Spring

High Nutritive Value Of Protein,
Calcium, And Carotene

Drought Tolerant In Part Because Of The Deep Root Penetration. Draws Moisture
From Great Depths

Needs A Soil pH Of 6.0 Or Above
To Establish

Medium Red Clover

A Biennial Legume That Produces
High Quality Forage

Easy To Establish As Red Clover Will Grow
On Less Productive Soils

Quick Growing

Winter Hardy Plant That May
Re- Seed Itself Under Proper Rotation

Ladino Clover

A Dependable White Perennial Legume

Supplies An Abundance Of Nitrogen
To Companion Grasses

Unusually Low Fiber Content, High In Protein Digestibility

Easy To Establish And Winter Hardy

